VOL. CXXXIV— No. 55. ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA, TUESDAY, MARCH 5, 1918. PRICE ONE CENT.

LIST OF PRICES TO BE CHARGED CONSUMERS

Food Administration Issues Orders Concerning Prices Which Grocers May Charge Consumers in City of Alexandria.

The prices below are those which are considered fair and equitable by the Food Administration for the City of Alexandria and grocers' prices to consumers should not exceed the figures quoted. Wherever grocers are able to sell at lower figures than those quoted and still make a reasonable profit over cost they are expected to do so. Housewives are requested to report instances of overcharging.

By a new ruling of the Food Administration potatoes may be used as a limited substitute. Potatoes may be sold as a substitute for one third of a purchase of flour on the basis of 1 pound of flour to 4 pounds of potatoes. For instance, with a twelve pound sack of flour may be sold 8 pounds of wheat flour substitutes and 16 pounds of potatoes.

The consumer should do his part to reduce prices and the prompt payment of accounts when they are due will do more than anything else to relieve the situation. Delivery is also expensive. One store figures that each stop to deliver goods costs them 3 cents.

Buy on a "Cash and Carry" basis whenever possible.

Residents of Alexandria will be gratified to learn that the local fuel administration board yesterday lifted the embargo in the purchase of coal to the extent of doing away with the necessity for securing affidavits when coal is bought from dealers. Chairman George W. Warfield this morning stated that the coal situation is clearing up somewhat and that it is hoped that no more serious trouble will be experienced in securing needed supplies of both anthracite and soft coal. Telegrams were sent to representatives of various mines yesterday asking that larger supplies be shipped to this city.

Have you sent in a slogan for the big sign of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation which is to be erected at the corner of Lee and Jefferson streets? Ten dollars will be given to the person who sends in the best one to Assistant Treasurer R. M. Much of the Shipbuilding Corporation. Why not get busy and get the ten?

More men continue to arrive in Alexandria daily looking for employment at the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation's shipyard and other industries in the city. Fifteen arrived late last evening for whom boarding places were found as late as eleven o'clock last night. About forty were located in all yesterday. The committee which has the work of securing rooms and boarding places for the new arrivals are gratified with the splendid manner in which the citizens are coming forward and offering accommodations for the men. Sufficient rooms were registered at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday to care for 359 persons. "It was a record day in that line," remarked Secretary Preston this morning in referring to the matter. From present indications it would seem, however, that the city will be taxed to its utmost capacity in taking care of all those who will be arriving here from this time on, as the end is not yet.

STATE WINS TAX SUIT

Armour & Co. Must Pay on Merchandise Manufactured Elsewhere and Sold Here.

Washington, March 5.—In a decision read yesterday by Chief Justice White, the Supreme Court upheld the Virginia license tax upon merchandise business done with that State. The opinion was rendered in the case of Armour & Co. against the Commonwealth of Virginia, the decision of the lower court being affirmed. The Virginia tax applies to all goods, wares and merhandise manufactured by such merchant and sold or offered for sale" in that state. Armour & Co. refused to comply in so far as the tax required the inclusion in the amount of purchases of merchandise manufactured by the corporation in other States and shipped into Virginia for sale.

The Supreme Court held the tax to be legal, stating: "But it is urged the statute should be held to be a burden in interstate commerce and repugnant to the Constitution because of the disadvantage to which, it is stated, it necessarily, by way of a license tax, subjected goods manufactured in another State when sold in Virginia by a merchant manufacturing the same, while no such tax was by the statute imposed on a manufacturer in Virginia selling his goods so manufactured at the place of their manufacture. But we have already tested the statute by its necessary operation and effect and found it not to be repugnant to the commerce clause; hence this argument but repeats in a different form a contention already disposed of.

WAR THRIFT MEASURES.

Hope for the Conquering of Germany is Based on American Thrift as Well as its Arms on Land and Sea.

Richmond, March 5.—War thrift organization of America versus war-making organization of Germany. That is essentially what is coming to pass, in the opinion of men closely allied with the National situation. America is basing a large part of her hopes for the conquering of the Hun war organization on her thrift organization. As German militarism touches every person in that country, so it is planned to have the American Thrift organization touch every person within the confines of the United States.

Societies, exclusive of those planned by the State Committee are springing up overnight, the result of well-directed patriotic efforts. There is a $100 Society, members of which are pledged to purchase $100 worth of war Savings Stamps; there is a $50 Society and and $25 war thirft club, each open to all upon the same terms. Children, following the example of their elders are taking $5 and $10 Clubs in the schools and it is said that an elite $1,000 War Economy Society is being talked by the elite.

The idea of organization seems to be in the air and, with the constant stream of visitors from various sections of the State passing through Richmond to and from the nearby cantonments, it is probable they will spread the plan quickly throughout the state. Each of these organizations is proving of inestimable aid to the War Savings Campaign Committee and the presence of a number of them in Virginia would go a long way toward guaranteeing that the State quota will be secure.

IMPORTANT DECISION

Wholesale Examination of Suit Cases In Search for Liquor is Not Upheld by Richmond Judge.

Judge D. C. Richardson, in an opinion handed down in the Hustings Court yesterday, held that justices of the peace have no legal right to issue search warrants for officers to enter a house in quest of liquor. The prohibition law should be enforced in the proper way, the court held, but the rights of citizens must be protected. The case was that of P. S. Butterworth, the railroad agent at Elba Station, who refused police officers admittance. He was later arrested, charged with interfering with officers in the discharge of their duty.

Judge Richardson's opinion is an exhaustive treatise of the case before him.

One section of his opinion, the court held: "I cannot find any statute which expressly authorizes the issuance of a search warrant to search a house for ardent spirits which the complainant believes have been brought into this State in violation of law."

Judge Richardson held that the search warrant in question contained an "insufficient" description.

STABS TWO AND SETS FIRE.

Giant Madman Breaks His Chains on an Italian Liner.

An Atlantic Port, March 5.—A giant pyromaniac was chained aboard the Italian liner Duce de Acosta here yesterday awaiting removal to a hospital.

The madman stabbed two members of the crew while at sea, and after being placed in two different sets of irons, he broke his bands and set fire to the mattress, which was the only article left with him in the brig.

"GREATER ALEXANDRIA" MEETING NEXT MONDAY

Invitations Mailed Today for Meeting to be Addressed by Dr. Daniel of South Carolina—Luncheon Held Today in Westminster Building at Which Further Details Were Discussed — Committee Looking Over Various Buildings in Which the New Organization will be Located—Business Men Anxious to Have Canvass Made for New Members.

Invitations to the "Greater Alexandria" meeting next Monday night at the Elks Hall will be mailed out by the Chamber of Commerce today. There is so much interest in this affair that it was considered unwise to open the meeting to the public generally, but to limit it to citizens whose property or business interests here are such as to make them interested in a big, active Chamber of Commerce. The guests will meet in the rathskeller for a smoker and then will go to the lodge room for the speaking.

There is great interest in the coming of Dr. Daniel of South Carolina. He has twice been the guest of honor at the annual meetings of the Chamber of Commerce at Lynchburg. He was the chief speaker at the great banquet in Baltimore at the time of the reorganization of the Merchants and Manufacturers association there.

So great is the enthusiasm for the campaign that a number of business men have said that the canvass for members should be made right away. Leaders in the movement have realized that such enthusiasm has existed, but they wish to build the new Chamber of Commerce on the right principles and upon a permanent foundation. In order that every citizen may become familiar with the new working plans by which it is expected that Alexandria will have a continuously active organization, the campaign committee desires that first the people shall be made familiar with the bureau plan of organization and the fundamental essentials of a successful organization. They believe it is a comparatively easy matter to have a successful campaign but it is a different and more difficult matter to have a live-wire organization after the campaign. Citizens are too prone, they say, to feel that when the campaign has been made a success the work is done. As a matter of fact, only the foundation for effort has been made.

The bureau plan of organization has been adopted by leading commercial organizations in all parts of the United States, and has been uniformly successful. It is simply a case of applying business practices to a commercial organization. It results in specialized effort, it brings out the personal service of a large number of members, and the active service and interest of members is said to be more important for a commercial organization than any thing else.

There has been some surprise that the campaign committee has set its mark for an income of $15,000 a year. On first thought this has seemed a large amount for chamber of commerce work, but when the plans are explained, and the work that is before the new Chamber is outlined, it does not seem to be too much. The new Chamber of Commerce will require a much larger outlay for overhead expenses than ever before. It has been doing a very limited work in the past, but under the board plan of the bureau form of organization there wil lbe need for a large amount of working capital.

A number of cities of Alexandria's size have larger incomes than $15,000 for their commercial organizations, and few of them have had the opportunities that are now knocking at the door of this city. Some of this outlay will go to the rental and upkeep of the new headquarters and offices. A committee is now at work looking up various places to house the new Chamber of Commerce. The new quarters will have features to make the chamber of commerce the common meeting place for all gatherings of business men in the city.

The first of a series of luncheons to be held in the interest of the campaign took place today at the Westminster building. About seventy-five business and professional men were present. A full report of this meeting will be made in the Gazette tomorrow.

MOONSHINE LIQUOR.

Eleven Stills Destroyed in Four Southern Counties and Ten Persons Arrested.

Danville, Va., March—5. Five revenue officers assigned to adjacent counties, with a view of breaking up the illicit manufacture of whisky, have made a report of their activities during the past month. It shows that moonshining is on the upward trend and that the fabulous prices obtained for ardent spirits is tempting many a "sworn-off" blockader to renew operations. In four counties —Pittsylvania, Henry, Franklin and Patrick—The officers seized and destroyed eleven moonshine stills, arrested nine men and one woman, poured out 200 gallons of liquor and several hundred gallons of "beer." All of those arrested are either in jail or under bond to appear at the next term of the Federal court, which will be held here in April. The destroyed stills ranged in capacity from 150 to 280 gallons.

BAD STORIES ON VIRGINIA.

Federation Secretary Hears Autoists Are Victimized in Chopowamsic Swamp.

Stories of auto experiences in Chopowamsic swamp, Prince William County, were told at the Civic Federation meeting last week. Secretary Ahalt said reports came in that the road under construction across the swamp was axle deep in mud and some travelers believed conditions were deliberately made worse by residents there who have had easy profits from hauling autos out when they stick. This libel indicates how carefully such cases should be handled The charge is discretionary for such service and it is important to the State that it should be reasonable. The calls have been at times so constant that one man kept a set of poles and a yoke of oxen at hand for the work.—Alex-County Commonwealth.

Drowns in Resevoir.

Winchester, Va., March 5.—William Martz, twenty-six years old, a deaf mute, son of John Matz, living near the government reservation at Mount Weather, Va., committed suicide, it is alleged, by jumping into the Blue Ridge Mountain reservoir which supplies the town of Berryville, Clarke County, with water. He is said to have fretted over a brother being drafted and sent to Camp Lee at Petersburg. The man had been missing from home nearly a week and a searching party found his body in the reservoir. There were no evidences of putrifaction, and it is thought he may have jumped in the same day he was found.

CARELESS AUTOISTS.

The number of automobiles and auto trucks in Alexandria has been augmented greatly during the past few weeks, or since the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation began operations in the southeastern section of the city. Some are of ponderous proportions, and carry trailers. Others are used to haul bricks, broken stone, etc., and are, apparently, as heavy as old-time locomotives. Apart from these the number of passenger automobiles has been greatly increased. Many of this class of modern vehicles are used by contractors and others.

While most of the drivers are careful and obey the traffic laws, others are inclined to be reckless, so much so that it is necessary to station policemen at Washington and King, Alfred and King streets for the purpose of preventing accidents. The officers are lenient and patient, and do everything possible to avoid making arrests, but occasionally it is necessary to put the strong arm of the law in force in order to maintain respect from flagrant violators of the same. Yesterday Sergeant Wilkinson arrested a man who was in charge of a heavy truck which was, he alleged, being operated at a speed of twenty miles an hour near King and Alfred streets. The driver had also ran his machine almost against the curbstone on the southeast corner while he was proceeding north. The offender was brought before the Police Court this morning and fined $10.

We all rejoice to see so many vehicles on our streets as well as the great number of strangers who now compose a large part of our population, and the authorities are loth to do anything which could in any way impede the good work now in progress, but "safety first and always" must be our motto, and violators of law will necessarily be held to account when they deliberately defy statutes which have been in force in all cities since the advent of the automobile. It is hoped that all interested will take due notice and act accordingly.

ORIGIN OF THE HUMAN RACE.

Visitors to London who have inspected the West Kensington Museum have met the marble effigy of Chas. Darwin on the stairway. It has occurred to such that many years ago he startled the human race by asking the question, 'May we not, after all, be the evolution of the simian creation?" Hence the Darwinian theory that we are the offspring of monkeys, baboons, gorillas, apes, chimpanzees, etc.

This was bad enough, but later German scientists traced the origin of the race down to insects which inhabit the seas, too small to be seen by the naked eye. Now a great authority tells us our progenitors were lizards and creeping things.

Dr. Edward H. Bradford, dean of the Harvard Medical School, issued a warning last Sunday against tracing one's ancestry further back than Adam and Eve. The monkey, and worse yet, lizards and creeping things, might be reached in such a searching process.

"The human species" he added, "originally were lizards. Until it has been definitely established in what order the offspring broke away, it cannot be determined whether man and monkey are first or forty-seventh cousins."

While there may be something in the nature of an allegory in the origin of the human race as described in the book of Genesis, its simplicity will ever appeal to the genus homo. We are told that man was made in the image of his Creator, who breathed the breath of life into his nostrils, and that he became a living soul. When Eve was brought to him he recognized a companion, bone of his bone and flesh of his flesh.

The Grecian story of the creation of man is equally interesting, though more elongated than that of Genesis. According to the Hellenists, he, too, was made of the clay of the earth. The beautiful story of the origin of Pandora should never be blurred by the Darwinian theory. She was the recipient of all the gifts of the gods. But like Eve, she brought trouble into the world, although the former was told she would eventually bring forth one mightier than the tempter who had caused her fall. "In the fulness of time" a woman produced the deliverer from all our woes. The world will ever prefer to believe these stories, notwithstanding the conclusions of "science falsely so called" as Paul puts it.

GERMAN GREED.

German "big business" is still backing the German government and the military command in its policy of annexation and domination. German "big business" is already building for future wars. No later than December, 1917, the association of German manufacturers of iron and steel and the association of German metallurgists, with headquarters at Berlin and Dusseldorff, added a "rigorously confidential" memorial, both to the German government and the imperial German military command, demanding the forcible annexation of the French iron base of Biery and Longwy because of "its extreme importance for German national economy and for the conduct of future wars."

One copy of the rigorously confidential memorial has just come into the hands of the French military authorities. It constitutes the most damning evidence that after three and a half years of warfare, in which Germany has sacrificed 4,000,000 of her own soldiers. German "business," the German government, the German military party and, apparently, the German people themselves, remain absolutely unchanged in their desire and determination for robbing other countries of their possessions.

Importance of the Lorraine iron base in "the conduct of future wars" is the concluding argument of the entire memorial for forcible annexation of this strip of French territory. The memorial frankly states that: 'If with the outbreak of hostilities in 1914, the French had destroyed their own mines at Biery, which later fell into the hands of the Germans, and at the same time with their long range guns destroyed the iron mines on the German side of the Lorraine frontier, the war could not have lasted more than a few months." Equally frank admission is made that it is only with the iron secured from the occupied mines of French Lorraine that the Germans in 1917 were able to meet the needs of their artillery.

CREDIT DUE C. C. CARLIN.

The aviators' concentration camp which will be located near Richmond will make seven big cantonments on Virginia soil. It will mean the concentration of more men in this state for service in France than in any other state in the Union. The Hon. C. C. Carlin has been most active securing these cantonments for Virginia. The camps now in this state are as follows: The National Army cantonment at Camp Lee; the Engineering Training Camp at Belvoir near Alexandria; the Naval Training Camp at Hampton Roads; the Marine Training Camp at Oecoquan; the Aviation Training School at Hampton; the Army Concentration Camp near Richmond.—Loudoun Times.

HEADACHE AND Septorin THE ANTISEPTIC LAXATIVE

You know in your own case that nearly every time you have a sick headache, or a nervous headache, or indeed any sort of headache, your stomach is also out of order.

In fact practically every headache is the result of disordered, upset, "SOUR" conditions of the stomach.

YOUR REMEDY IS, SEPTORIN because SEPTORIN promptly settles the stomach and then the headache vanishes.

You can understand there is no real benefit from taking something that just deadens the pain in the head—you have got to take a remedy such as SEPTORIN to GET RID OF THE CAUSE OF YOUR HEADACHE.

Just one dose of SEPTORIN—only two tablets—taken to-night will prove its merits by morning.

In Boxes, 10c., 25c., 50c.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Chatham Man Thrown Forty Feet When Locomotive Strikes Automobile.

Danville, Va., March 5.—Although he was tossed forty feet in his wrecked automobile, Claude Whitehead, a young Chatham man who had a miraculous escape from death Friday night, is nursing facial cuts at the General Hospital.

When driving across the North Danville crossing last night he found a main-line Southern train on him, and it crashed into his car. He claims that the crossing gate was up while that on the far side was down.

Dan East, night watchman, who is reported to have said that one of the gates was out of repair, is under $500 bond to appear in court next Friday. Engineer George Pierce, of the locomotive, is under a similar bond, both being arrested soon after the accident.

READY TO FIGHT GERMANY.

Agreement Reported Between South American Republic and Allies.

Buenos Ayres, March 5.—The Argentine press is filled with rumors and reports of a commercial agreement between Argentine and the allies involving virtual adhesion by Argentine to the allied cause. The reports are still vague and unconfirmed, but even in quarters close to the government the possibility of Argentine's formal entrance into the war on the allied side in the near future is not denied.

The election Sunday was orderly and enthusiastic everywhere. In the capital the contest was mainly between the Radicals and Socialists. The result is still uncertain, though indications pointed to a victory for the Radicals. Complete figures from the provinces will not be in for a fortnight.

VETERAN A. SUICIDE.

Cuts Throat From Ear to Ear and Then Jumps Into Hampton Creek.

Hampton, Va., March 5.—With a gaping wound in his left arm and his throat cut from ear to ear, Johnson B. Day, seventy-six years old, veteran of the War Between the States, successfully finished an attempt at suicide Saturday by plunging from the wharf at the National Soldiers' Home into Hampton Creek. He was dead from the loss of blood before he could be rescued by Captain Brown, who was in a small canoe near the place.

Day came to the home here from Philadelphia twenty-five years ago. Ill health is ascribed as the cause of the act.

WOMEN AND UNIVERSITY.

Virginia Senate Passes Bill Allowing Them to Enter the Institution.

By a vote of 23 to 9, the state senate yesterday afternoon passed the bill opening the University of Virginia to women not under eighteen years of age. The measure now goes to the house of delegates, where it is said to have strong endorsement, though opposition will also prove of grave consideration.

Women who may enter the professional and graduate classes of the university, however, may find the doors of the engineering and law courses closed to them. Such was the amendment proposed by Senator Strode and adopted by the senate This still opens all other classes and professions to women — medicine, chemistry, education and others.

CLEAR UP $86,000 THEFT.

Boys Tell of Helping an Express Company Employee to Steal Money

Pittsburgh, March 5.—After being sweated by county detectives, two boys arrested early Saturday are alleged to have confessed how they, with a missing employee of the Adams Express Company in this city, robbed the company's office in Liberty avenue last February 24 of $86,000. The boys were James F. Burke, 20, a moving picture operator, and John W. Roush, 17, a chauffeur. The money was in transit from the Bank of Pittsburgh National Association to the American Steel and Wire Company in Donora. The confessions described how the two boys, working in conjunction with the employee, carried the money away in a suitcase. The man divided $70,000 equally with Burke and Roush was allowed to have the rest.

Almost simultaneous with the confession of the two boys here, another big Adams Express robbery was cleared Saturday evening through confessions said to have been made in Rochester, Pa., by John Izenour, 23, former night agent for the company in Rochester, and William Ware, 23, a former driver for the company, that they had stolen $2,000 in silver February 23. The money, chiefly in halves and dollars, had been consigned by the First National Bank of Beaver to the Monongahela National Bank of Pittsburgh. When the box was opened in this city it was found to contain four bricks, an old hat and some discarded clothing.

The men, it is said, told the Rochester police how they had gone to Toledo after taking the money from the Rochester office and had hidden the money there.

Ross Wohlford, a Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad engineer, and Tom Caldwell battled their way through the flames and smoke and brought out the unconscious mother and two of the children.
